

DROP Quotes

Inventors or Fools? by Shelly Hazard

January, 2006

The creations of inventors are not always accepted by their peers. History has many examples of highly intelligent people who were scorned by their peers. Fyodor Dostoyevsky shares his view of these creative geniuses with this month's puzzle.

MONTHLY INTERACTIVE & PRINTABLE

www.puzzlersparadise.com

Copyright © 2004-2006 Shelly Hazard and ThinkFun Inc. All Rights Reserved.
Permission is granted for personal use only. This puzzle may not be duplicated for personal profit.

www.puzzles.com

