Character Adventures

by Shelly Hazard

Jack and four friends met Friday night for their weekly game night. Their current gaming sessions have them involved in a role-playing adventure in the Dungeons and Dragons world. Each of them plays a male character and Friday's objective, which they achieved, was to make it through an ancient dungeon and find the treasure, defeating the dragon guarding it. Determine the full name of each player, the type of each character they played (one type was human), the class of each character they played (one class was fighter), and the name of each character they played.

1. Gromm is not the name of the elf character. The thief character is played by Chris, whose last name isn't Smith. Mr. West plays the dwarf character, who isn't a fighter.
2. The player whose last name is North doesn't play the character named Fallon. The cleric, Chance, is played by Tom, whose last name isn't Chandler. Harry's character isn't the mage.
3. Adam, whose last name isn't Rowly, plays a human character. The other human character is played by Mr. Smith.
4. The character named Willow is not a ranger, but is an elf. The mage, Fallon, isn't played by Jack. The character named Martin isn't played by Mr. Rowly.
5. As the party moves into the dungeon, the marching order is: the fighter, Mr. West's character, Adam's character, Martin, and the elf.
6. The half-orc ranger isn't played by Jack. The dwarf isn't a thief.
